When Walt Disney opened Disneyland on July 17, 1955, he said he hoped it would be “a source of joy and inspiration to all the world.” Since then, the Disneyland Resort has welcomed guests from all across the world, expanding to become an approximately 500-acre, multifaceted, world-class family resort destination, complete with two renowned Disney theme parks, three hotels and the exciting shopping, dining and entertainment area known as Downtown Disney District.

Disneyland introduced the world to an entirely new concept in family entertainment. Today, it continues to use creativity, technology and innovation to bring storytelling to new heights, while fulfilling Walt Disney’s vision that “Disneyland will never be complete as long as there is imagination left in the world.”
The Disneyland Resort Hotels each earned the environmentalist certification from the California Green Lodging Program, the donation and repurposing of gently used shoes, costumes, furniture and decorations. In the last 10 years, Disneyland Resort has doubled the amount of waste diverted from landfills, including 16 million pounds of food scraps processed into animal feed, and the Island, Jungle Cruise boats and Main Street, U.S.A. vehicles. Compressed natural gas (CNG) is used to fuel the parking lot guest trams, Sailing Ship Columbia, rafts to Tom Sawyer Island, bringing the total number of Disney-sponsored playgrounds in the area to 14. For Anaheim students, the Disneyland Resort is entering the third year of our workforce development program. Through this program, Disney VoluntEARS provide career development workshops and presentations, and host hundreds of high school students and young adults on-site for immersive mentoring and leadership development opportunities. And over a 10-year period, the Disneyland Resort will award sixth-grade students in Anaheim tickets to visit the resort when they make a positive impact in their community through the Happiest Class on Earth program. For more than 60 years, the Disneyland Resort has been an economic engine for Southern California. An independent study concluded that the Disneyland Resort generates $8.5 billion annually for the Southern California economy. The study also showed that each year the resort generates more than $510 million in taxes for surrounding cities, counties and the state. In Anaheim alone, the resort generates nearly $162 million for the city’s general fund. In addition, the resort is responsible for generating a total of more than 78,000 jobs—and nearly 75 percent of those jobs are located in Orange County. More than 1,600 new operations jobs and 6,700 temporary construction and artisan jobs were created for Star Wars: Galaxy’s Edge. The all-new, 14-acre Star Wars: Galaxy’s Edge is the largest single-themed land expansion in Disneyland Park history. Guests are transported to the remote planet of Batuu, where they become part of the story as they sample galactic food and beverages, explore an intriguing collection of merchant shops and take the controls of the most famous ship in the galaxy aboard Millennium Falcon: Smugglers Run. Star Wars: Rise of the Resistance, Disney’s most ambitious, immersive and advanced attraction ever imagined, will open January 17 in Star Wars: Galaxy’s Edge. The epic attraction will place guests in the middle of a climactic battle between the First Order and the Resistance and will blur the lines between fantasy and reality.

Earlier this year, the Disneyland Resort announced a commitment of $5 million in grant funding to the newly revitalized Orange County Housing Trust, which has been retooled by Orange County Business Council and NeighborWorks Orange County. This was the first contribution by a private donor to the housing trust in support of affordable housing projects.

In 2018, the Disneyland Resort donated $600,000 to Chrysalis, a California nonprofit that has proven results in lifting individuals out of poverty by helping them find and retain steady jobs. Disney VoluntEARS also celebrated 35 years of giving back to communities around the globe in 2018, a program that started at the Disneyland Resort and has provided more than 10 million hours of volunteer service to date. In addition, Disney VoluntEARS recently built a new KaBOOM! playground in Anaheim, bringing the total number of Disney-sponsored playgrounds in the area to 14.
